

Introducing the Linn Genki CD Player

The Linn Genki is a high resolution single box CD player that sells for $1700. We think Linn is giving them away at that price and here is why. This is the first new player from Linn to incorporate circuitry and techniques learned from their statement piece: the $20,000 model CD12. By now most of you have read one of the many rave reviews calling the CD12 the most musical player in the universe at any price. Well, some of that magic has crept into the Genki at a fraction of the price.

The bottom line is this. If you're in need of a great CD player, but you can't afford a Linn Ikemi- or maybe you don't believe now is the time to spend $3700 on any CD player- the Genki is perfect for you.
