A Music System at Just $1,550

Love the Classik concept, but just don't need all the video and multichannel bells and whistles? No problem. Linn makes a high-end integrated stereo system called the Classik Music. Don't waste your money on an inferior all-in-one solution from Bose when you can enjoy true high-end performance from Linn. The Classik Music boasts the same outstanding build quality as the Classik Movie and is housed in the same compact chassis. Included are three high quality components: a CD player, an integrated amplifier and a tuner, along with connections for up to three external sources. Connect a pair of speakers and you are on your way to musical bliss....perfect for the den, office, bedroom, or anyplace else where "size matters".
