Why Do You Need The Pronto?

Because the Pronto is the most incredible universal remote you have ever had the pleasure of using. And it's the most user friendly too. You can do just about anything with your pronto.

-Control every audio & video component in your house- the Pronto will have memory to spare!

-Easily and instantly learn the codes from any original remote control

-You can totally customize the layout and the position of each button

-Label each button yourself using Pronto's built in typewriter

-Insert graphic images and product logos for the components you want to control

-Have total control over the lights (dim and on/off) in your theater (w/ the help of Lutron)

And this is just the tip of the iceberg. Pronto has almost unlimited flexibility and because it is software upgradeable, it will only get better in the future.

Philips Pronto costs just $399 and runs on AA batteries (which last about 6-8 months), or you can choose to purchase the Pronto Docking Station for $80, which will keep your Pronto charged whenever you set it in the docking bay.

Ultra Fidelis offers customized advanced programming of your Pronto if you would prefer not to do it yourself. Otherwise, we can be a valuable resource for those who do want to customize their own Pronto remote control.
