Introducing the ProAc Tablette Reference 8

There have been a number of "Tablette" designs over the years and each one had something special to offer. The new Reference 8 is no exception. ProAc has gone back to the size of the early Super Tablette speaker. They are tiny little things with huge rich sound and surprisingly impressive bass. Their tonal balance is warm and full instead of thin or bright like most smaller monitors. We have been running them in our big listening room which has a lot of volume to fill with its 25 foot ceiling, and the new Reference 8 Tablettes handle it beautifully.

They do prefer better electronics, but can be driven by a high quality receiver, like the Integra, with good results. They also mate very well with the Vandersteen 2Wq subwoofer. By themselves or with a sub, you will quickly be seduced by their sound. The Tablette Reference 8 costs just $1200 per pair.
