

Ultra Fidelis Recommended Systems

There is a letter from “Charlie” on our website which compares Ultra Fidelis to a sommelier at a fine restaurant. We are certainly flattered by the reference and agree that a significant part of our value-added comes from our ability to craft a whole system for you that provides a much higher level of performance than the price would suggest, irrespective of what price range you are in. Without wishing to imply that this is all there is to it, we’d like to provide you with a distillation of some of the fruits of our research in the area of component matching for maximum performance value so that you may have a better feel for what to expect from our system designs.

The following pages roughly break down many of our component offerings into five color-coded ranges of performance. These are meant as rules of thumb, not hard and fast ones. One could do worse than assembling a system entirely from the color range which best fits one’s budget. Conversely a system comprising components from widely differing ranges is rarely going to represent the most balanced, highest value performance available for the total dollars invested. Also, bear in mind that, particularly among the five-channel speaker systems, there are countless more combinations that make sense than those listed which, in the interest of brevity, are not shown. Please consult your Ultra Fidelis salesperson for specific recommendations.
